

Graphite on paper drawing where the artist shows a small part of the Fuente del Berro Park in Madrid. The main element of this work is a small tree surrounded by the sunlight, creating a slight backlighting effect. The small grove behind this main tree is interpreted by using darker lines. The series of horizontal bands forming the ground give depth to this composition.

On the lower left part the signature says "A. López Torres. April 1971".

Donated by Antonio López Torres in a public deed, 27.10.78.
