

This is an unfinished and schematic work drawn with graphite on paper where the main element is a water tank on the left side. The different grey tones lead the spectator through the landscape to a tree line and a hill in the background.

“A. López Torres 1966” is the signature written on the lower right side of the drawing.

Donated by Antonio López Torres in a public deed, 27.10.78.