

Graphite on paper portrait of a young girl the artist interpreted naturally, with a neutral background and frontal pose. She has short hair and wears a white shirt with two buttons. The scene is immersed in a grey colour atmosphere where her gaze seems to escape.

The drawing is signed on the lower left corner and says "A. López Torres 1964".

Donated by his sisters Eulalia and Carmen López Torres in a public deed, 28.4.93.
